Alexandra Walsh of Wilkinson Walsh Eskovitz named as one of 2018's Top 250 Women in Litigation by Benchmark Litigation

Benchmark Litigation has recognized Alexandra Walsh as one of the Top 250 Women in Litigation in its annual Top 250 Women in Litigation publication. Walsh is a District of Columbia-based litigator with Wilkinson Walsh Eskovitz.

The Top 250 Women in Litigation publication's extensive research process, which encompasses six months of investigation into the individual litigators' professional activities as well as client feedback surveys and individual interviews, has culminated in the selection of the most distinguished women in the world of litigation. These women have earned their place amongst the leading female litigators by participating in some of the most impactful litigation matters in recent history as well as by earning the hard-won respect of their peers and clients. Though they hail from widely different practice areas, they all share the distinction of being recognized as top players in their respective fields.

Listed within the Northeast-District of Columbia section of the Top 250 Women in Litigation publication, Benchmark Litigation has this to say about Walsh:

Founding and name partner Alexandra Walsh represents clients on criminal and civil litigation matters, as well as represents corporate clients on internal investigations. Both Wilkinson and Walsh were hired to represent John Kapoor, founder of Insys Therapeutics after he was charged with conspiracy to bribe doctors and pharmacists in an attempt to over-prescribe an opioid pain medication made by his company.

Attorneys named to the 2018 publication were chosen through several phases of research: namely, the review of their recent case work, peer review in which we consider how attorneys at peer legal institutions might rank them, and a consideration of client feedback on their performances.

In addition to this honor, Wilkinson Walsh Eskovitz also enjoys a number of firm-wide rankings and further individual attorney recognition by Benchmark Litigation. For more information please see here:
